Global High Income Bond Fund: Class E2 US Dollar Accumulating Shares

A sub-fund of 1167 Active Funds ICAV

ISIN: IE00BG063555

Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek to deliver a high level of income yield relative to the yield on US government treasury bonds, over the medium term.

It is the policy of the Fund to achieve its investment objective by investing in bond, debt, and currency instruments in markets worldwide which may at the discretion of the Investment Manager include significant investment in emerging markets. A majority of the Fund's total assets will be invested in sovereign and sovereign-related bond, debt and currency instruments in either developed or emerging market countries. Sovereign and sovereign-related instruments include those issued or guaranteed not only by supranational entities, national governments and local governments, but also by entities controlled or owned by national and local government. The Fund may invest directly or use derivatives.

You should note that:

The Fund invests in bond, debt, and currency instruments worldwide of which a significant proportion may be in emerging markets.

The Fund is actively managed; the Investment Manager uses its expertise to select investments. The Fund does not track and is not constrained by reference to any benchmark.

The Fund's objective is to deliver a high level of income yield relative to the yield on US government treasury bonds. In order to achieve this the Fund may seek to remain fully invested, which will put the Fund's capital at risk.

The Fund may engage in transactions in financial derivative instruments for efficient portfolio management, investment or hedging purposes.

The Fund will invest in bonds of varying creditworthiness including Investment Grade, sub-Investment Grade and unrated instruments, denominated in any currency worldwide.

There can be no guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

This Fund should be viewed as a medium term investment and may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

The Fund has Distributing and Accumulating share classes. The Distributing Shares pay dividends, representing income accrued and received quarterly, in January, April, July and October. The Accumulating Shares do not pay dividends and any income arising is retained in the Fund and reflected in the price of the Shares.

The Fund's Shares can be bought from, and sold back to, the Fund on any business day in Ireland.

Please refer to the Prospectus and relevant Fund Supplement for more detailed information.

Risk and Reward Profile

- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time.
- The lowest category does not mean 'risk free'.

The Fund is ranked in risk and reward category 5 as it can invest in bond markets worldwide (which include emerging markets), and these tend to be more volatile than cash.

The Fund is also subject to risks which are not included in the calculation of the risk-reward indicator associated with the following:

Concentration Risk - The Fund may hold up to 35% of its net asset value in the securities of one sovereign issuer. The value of the Fund may be significantly affected if one or more of these issuers fails to meet its obligations or suffers a ratings' downgrade.

Securities Risk – Some of the markets and exchanges in which the Fund may invest might go up or down, and the value of your investment might not increase.

Credit and Counterparty Risk – A borrower or a counterparty may fail to repay interest and/or capital, or to meet contractual obligations to the Fund.

Operational Risk – Management, business or administration processes, including those to do with safekeeping of assets, might fail, leading to losses.

Share Class Currency Risk – The Fund has hedged and non-hedged share classes. Hedged share classes will include currency hedging transactions to mitigate the effect of movements between the share class currency and the Fund's base currency (US Dollars) but there can be no assurance that such currency hedging will be successful. In addition, such hedging will not protect hedged share classes from any non-US Dollar exposure that might exist in the Fund as part of the Investment Manager's investment choices. For non-hedged share classes, such hedging will not be undertaken, which means that these share classes will be exposed to movements between the share class currency and the Fund's base currency (US Dollars).

Derivatives for Investment Purposes Risk - The Fund may use derivatives for investment purposes, which might result in leverage. Leverage means that the Fund's exposure could either be more or less than that represented by direct holdings. For example, the Fund's exposure might be more than 100% of its net asset value. Whilst this is not intended to cause larger, more frequent, changes in the Fund price or increase its risk profile, derivatives are inherently volatile.

Emerging Markets Risk – Emerging markets may involve additional risks including, but not limited to: political, regulatory, legal, custody, registration and legal title, illiquidity, settlement, repatriation and currency fluctuation risks.

Please refer to the "Risk Factors" section of the Prospectus and the relevant Fund Supplement for more detailed information.
